

REGAL CHASE

ALDERHOLT

ANTLER HOMES

Village life & amazing vistas

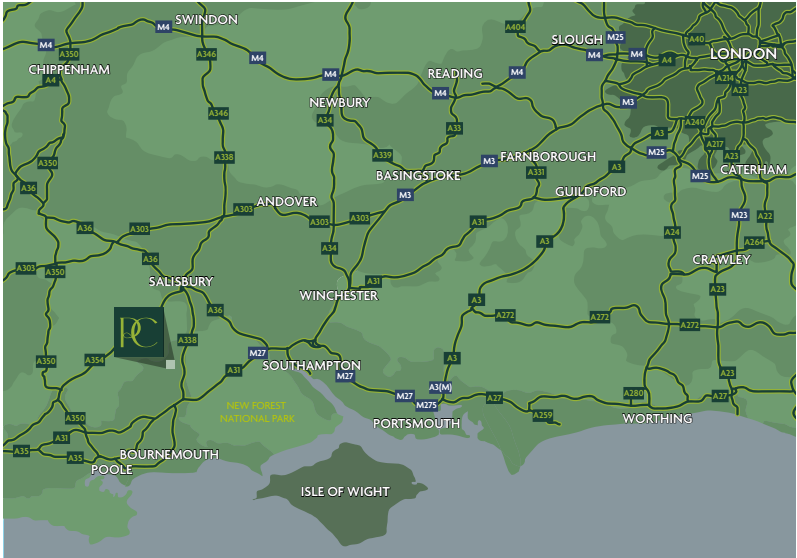

Alderholt has all the prerequisites for the perfect family location: open space to play outside, sports clubs to join, somewhere to buy a pint of milk; two places of worship, a village hall, a welcoming pub and landmarks including The Reading Room, St James' Church and the fully-working Alderholt Mill.

Perched on the border of Dorset and Hampshire, the local landscape is yours to explore. Follow in excess of 30 footpaths that thread their way through Alderholt's stunning countryside, traversing a designated Area of Great Landscape Value and ancient woodlands that were formerly a Royal Deer Park.

What's close by Alderholt is a rural village with the convenience of practical amenities within walking distance of Regal Chase. Connections to the A31/M27 can be made via nearby Ringwood, and there are train stations at both Salisbury and Bournemouth.

About Antler Homes

When you choose an Antler Homes home you are purchasing a home of real character, individuality and originality that you can make yours, and yours alone.

What's more, you will discover that your new Antler home is hallmarked by countless aspects of skilful architectural, exterior and interior design, derived from our many years as one of the UK's most outstanding and well-respected housebuilders.

We are still a relatively small, private company, with a fifty-year history of designing beautiful homes, which depends on our customers' satisfaction and delight in order to secure and safeguard our reputation for excellence. Attention to detail is another unique Antler signature that you will find in your new home, with the skills of our time-served architects and engineers ensuring that every aspect of your property is precisely as you would want it to be.

Equally satisfying are the personal touches you will enjoy as a valued Antler customer, from our helpful and knowledgeable sales personnel, through to all the support you require throughout the purchasing and moving process – plus an impressive after-sales service that always puts your needs first in the house you will call 'home' for many years to come.

We are incredibly proud of the homes we deliver.

Each and every one has been built to an exceptionally high standard by our passionate team, ensuring it can be enjoyed generation after generation.
